Pastor's Column

Just recently, I received an email of a parishioner leaving our parish. This recently joined member stated I was not a good pastor to the parish. I begrudge this person nothing because I believe he was half-right; I do not think anything I would do would make them happy here.

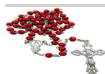

I began to think in detail about my hope or vision for this parish might be. It is simply that we live in the kingdom here and now by preaching and living the Gospel in a post-Christian world. This means we have to do things differently than before. I realize that adapting to new ways of seeing things and doings can cause some resistance. However, I think that simple things like bible studies, unique youth activities, and greetings at Mass foster a welcoming parish that wants everyone to enjoy God's love. I often think of St James warning - your prayers are futile if you do not visit the widow, your down and out neighbors, the Father's love reaches out to them and so should you.

SEAS - keep up the good work that will transform the west side into a little heaven here on earth!

PS...By the way, I am not fishing for compliments; hence, I write this as I leave for vacation.

Rev. Sherman A. Orr
Pastor Of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton

Pleaser pray for Fr. Orr while he is on vacation,

Families: Be a Domestic Church September Theme and Psalm: Charity, Psalm 86:1-7, 11-12

What distinguishes Christian Charity from other types of kindness or sacrifice? Pope Benedict XVI described three unique elements of Christian Charity: a heartfelt concern that extends beyond meeting the momentary need of another person; a heart moved toward love from within versus one moved only by a commandment; and Charity based on faith that brings Christ to others in word or deed. This type of love calls us to go out and meet people where they are. Consider joining the Knights of Columbus for the Patriotic Rosary on September 11th, to pray for our country, perhaps that we would be a people of Christian Charity.
